SPRING TERM 2014

The theme this term has been 'numbers/counting'. We have been using numbers throughout our play and encouraging the children to count the objects they find. We visited the local library in Clare where we sang songs related to counting, followed by some craft activities and a story. The children really enjoyed the whole experience.

Sharing books with children really helps them at school and beyond. Whether you read to your own child, a younger brother or sister, a grandchild or niece or nephew, you'll be setting them up for a lifetime of enjoyment through books.

There is a dedicated children's book section and many other services available for young children at Clare Library- pop in to find out more....
